PACIFIC LOTTERY APPROVES IBM SYSTEM IN VIETNAM. Pacific Lottery Corporation recently conducted extensive quality assurance testing of the proposed IBM Central System Server Technology and approved it for use as the hardware anchor for the operation of the Ho Chi Minh City modern online Lottery program. During the past few weeks, the IBM server hardware has undergone rigorous testing by the Corporation's technical staff and achieved or exceeded all required tolerances for the proper operation of a jurisdiction wide, online real time lottery program. Pacific Lottery Corporation expects to use the IBM central system servers, subject to satisfactory conclusion of commercial arrangements, to operate its proprietary Lottery software to control the Lottery system network and provide secure real time transaction processing and communications directly between each retail terminal and the central command and control system. The proprietary Terminals (currently under production in Vietnam), when delivered, will be integrated into a continuous uninterrupted closed network expected to utilize the approved IBM central system hardware configuration. The Corporation anticipates the timely conclusion of commercial terms with IBM and facilitating delivery of the equipment shortly thereafter. In other developments, the Corporation announces that it has recently been advised by the Vietnamese manufacturer that all initial internal testing conducted on its prototype proprietary Lottery Terminal has concluded successfully. The Corporation is now in the process of conducting its own quality assurance testing including software compatibility testing that is required prior to final assembly and delivery of Lottery Terminals. The Corporation has been advised to expect this final assembly phase to be concluded within 60 days of satisfactory testing with delivery and installation of Lottery Terminals in retailer establishments to occur shortly there after.

MTR GAMING GROUP RECEIVES MANAGEMENT-LED ACQUISITION PROPOSAL. MTR Gaming has received a non-binding proposal from a newly-formed entity, TBR Acquisition Group, LLC, which is controlled by Edson Arneault and Robert Blatt, MTR's Chief Executive Officer and Executive Vice President, respectively, both of whom are also directors, to acquire all of the outstanding shares of MTR for a cash price of $9.50 per share. The management-led group has tentatively proposed a two-step transaction: a first step public tender offer for not less than 90% of the outstanding shares of common stock for $9.50 per share in cash, followed by a second step "short form" merger in which the remaining public stockholders would also receive $9.50 per share in cash. The Board of Directors has established a special committee consisting of four independent, disinterested directors to act on behalf of MTR with respect to the proposal or alternatives in the context of evaluating what is in the best interests of MTR and its stockholders. The special committee is authorized to retain independent financial, legal and other advisors.

FLORIDA SENATE REVISES SLOT TAX PLAN.

A Florida Senate Committee on Tuesday approved a sliding scale tax rate on gaming machines. The Senate plan calls for a 35% tax on the first $125 million, and slides up to 55% on revenue greater than $500 million. The original Senate plan called for a 45% tax rate, and the House bill has a 55% tax rate.

ARKANSAS GAMBLING EXPANSION

CHALLENGED. Arkansas' Oaklawn Park (horse track) and Southland Greyhound Park are anticipating a lawsuit seeking to halt its recently approved "electronic games of skill". Anti-gambling groups were unable to stop the gambling expansion bill at the ballots, but have since filed a lawsuit in Crittenden County and are reportedly planning to continue their offensive with another suit in Garland County. Racetrack officials in both cities said the expanded video game options were necessary to develop the economy and to prevent players from slipping away to nearby gambling meccas like Tunica, Miss. Both tracks already offer a game called instant racing, which allows players to wager on the results of past races from around the country. At Hot Springs, 50.5 percent of voters approved the extra games; at West Memphis, 63 percent approved.

CBT SIMULCASTING TO SOUTH AMERICA.

Charlson Broadcast Technologies entered into long term agreements with AmTote International, Inc. and BLB Inc./Wembley USA to simulcast into South America. AmTote will provide the gateway necessary to commingle wagers from international simulcasting outlets and BLB will provide content rights to U.S. horse and greyhound racing. Beginning with South America, CBT secured exclusive agreements with racetrack operators in Venezuela and Brazil and will begin simulcast wagering later this month in partnership with Carnegie Cooke and Company, Inc. at the Campos racetrack and its OTB network in Brazil. CBT and its partners will provide horseplayers in these countries the opportunity to wager on international horse and greyhound racing with unlimited wagering, track odds, all available host track wager types with true track payoffs. All foreign currencies wagered will be converted into U.S. dollars before being fully placed into the host track pools. CBT developed its International Wagering Terminal that functions as a point of sale terminal accepting and cashing wagers as well as generating multiple video displays of odds, exotics, results and changes and printing translated licensed Equibase(R) programs from a single PC. The IWT will also interface with popular sports and lottery systems where legal. CBT currently streams more than thirty channels of broadcast quality video to its international locations using a secure VPN over the internet and satellite.

SONA MOBILE ANNOUNCES mWAGER. Sona Mobile Holdings announced the debut of mWager(TM), a full-service mobile application that extends the experience of horse race wagering to wireless devices. By using mWager(TM), subscribers can place wagers, watch races in real time, conduct pre-race research, receive immediate access to post-race information and a variety of other tasks on the application and the phone. Sona's Mobile Multi-Threading Technology allows users to wager on the application while still be able to send email and receive voice calls.

NORTH CAROLINA UPDATE. Tom Shaheen began as North Carolina Lottery's first director last week. The initial timetable for Lottery startup is April 5 for scratch tickets and a multi-state by July. More than 3,500 businesses have expressed interest in becoming Lottery retailers. This week Shaheen will begin the process of hiring 200 to 300 employees. RFPs are expected to go out in approximately three weeks.

IOWA PLAYERS CAN OPT-OUT. The Iowa Lottery Board voted to establish a player "self-ban" policy designed to address issues related to problem gambling. The policy would allow players to sign contracts stating that they are problem gamblers and wish to enter into a voluntary self-exclusion agreement with the lottery. The agreement would ban those players from the lottery's five regional offices in the state and allow the lottery to deny payment of any prize at a lottery office to those players. The lottery also would remove from any mailing or promotional lists the names of those players who entered into self-ban contracts.

PENNSYLVANIA MILLIONAIRE RAFFLE

SELLOUT. Tickets for the Pennsylvania Lottery's groundbreaking Millionaire Raffle game have sold out in less than two weeks. Sales of Millionaire Raffle's 500,000 tickets began on Tuesday, Nov. 22, and were to continue until Dec. 31 at 5 p.m., or until the tickets ran out. The last Millionaire Raffle ticket was sold at 2:42 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 5. The drawing for the game, which features four top prizes of $1 million, will be held on New Year's Eve. Millionaire Raffle ticket sales generated approximately $4.3 million for programs that benefit older Pennsylvanians.

MEGA MILLIONS SALES CONTINUE IN

CALIFORNIA. At a hearing in Sacramento Superior Court, Judge Connelly decided to take under advisement a lawsuit questioning California's participation in the MEGA Millions game. In the meantime, MEGA Millions tickets will continue to be available at Lottery retailers, and Californians who win prizes will continue to be paid and that proceeds from MEGA Millions tickets will continue to go to public schools in California.

NORTH CAROLINA PANEL VISITS TENNESSEE.

Members of North Carolina's lottery commission visited Lottery operations in Tennessee. The AP reported that in addition to attending briefings from TELC officials on operating a lottery, the commission talked with sales clerks, players and bumped into new millionaires claiming their winnings.

ILLINOIS CAPS MEGA MILLIONS BONUS. Illinois officials have placed a $500,000 cap on the amount of money a retailer can collect from selling a winning Mega Millions ticket. The state used to pay retailers a jackpot bonus of 1 percent for selling a winning Mega Millions ticket. There was no limit on the payout. The 1 percent bonus will remain in effect up to $500,000

OKLAHOMA WINNINGS TO BE CROSS

REFERENCED FOR DEBT. The Oklahoma Commission for Human Services reportedly approved a rule on Tuesday to institute a system of cross-checking winners for unpaid debts to the state. The Department of Human Services (DHS) is also reportedly talking with horse racetracks and American Indian casinos. The DHS has already been trying to capture lottery winnings for back child support, but the new rule will allow greater enforcement and an appeals process.

TEXAS RECEIVES FINANCIAL REPORTING

AWARD. The Office of the Controller of the Texas Lottery Commission has been awarded the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting from the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) for its Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) for Fiscal Year 2004.
