Aromatherapy Pet Products Review and Offering @GerrardLarriett

By admin | 02/10/2013 | Ritter Kondo

OOOh this next review and giveaway was so much fun to experience! Has anyone every tried aromatherapy products for pets? This was my very first time and I am so glad I used the Gerrard Larriett collection. When I say these products smell fabulous, I am not fibbing. I wish my blog had a scratch and sniff so you could enjoy the aroma first hand (nose:)

I was totally psyched and even a little jealous when I opened up my package from Gerrard Larriett. I received a fabulous shampoo for my fur monsters AND a candle.... for them! Yep, the candle is a Wildwood scent, soy candle that is specifically designed with your fur baby in mind.

The candle retails for $24.00 and comes in three fabulous scents. The comment question for the blog giveaway is to answer what the other two scented Gerrard Larriett candles which are offered on their website, so I will not disclose their names. I also received a Wildwood scented shampoo that Abigail tried out and loved (okay, maybe she doesn't love getting a bath but she does like the smell). She also loves after bath feeling and this shampoo was soothing to her dry skin because one of the main ingredients is Aloe Vera. The shampoo retails for \$12.00 and can be purchased directly on their website. Okay now for the super fun part. A giveaway! Below is the Rafflecopter entry to try and win a $50.00 gift certificate redeemable on the Gerrard Larriett website. If you do not win the GC but still want to purchase their products, use promo code 250ff and save 25% on your next purchase. (this expires in 30 days, so you act immediately!)

Good luck!

Happy Jasmine sounds yummy. I know during the winter my pets (and myself) could use a little pick me up.

While I think I'd like the Wildwood scent best myself, I think I'd also like Happy Jasmine.
