

Breaking News

Christmas Dinner Site Chosen p.2

Sports

Reindeer Games Results p.3

In this Issue

Jingle Jangle Jumble p.2

In the Kitchen with Mrs. Claus p.4

Dear Dolly p.4

The Polar News

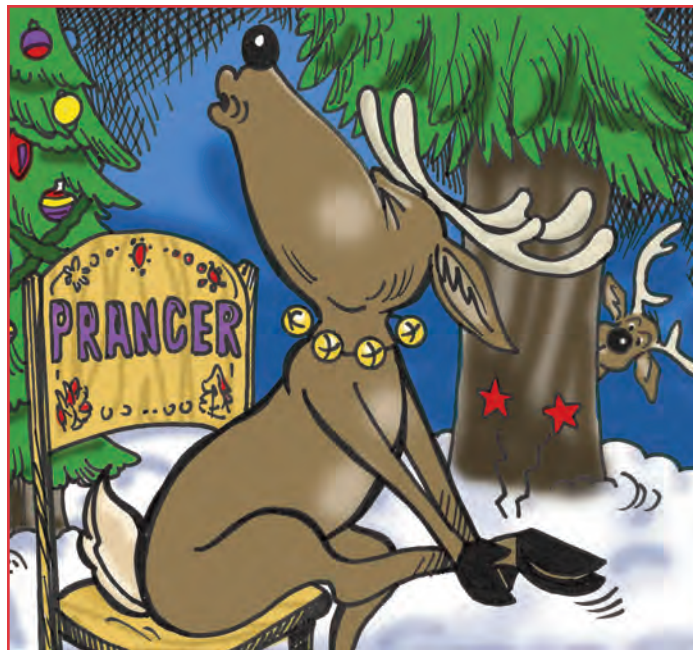

December 1, 2011

Volume 1

Drama on the Set of “Prancing with The Stars”

In the midst of casting their most popular show on NPC (North Pole Channel), “Prancing with the Stars” show hopeful, Dancer, has already had to withdraw from the competition. Dancer announced yesterday that due to a hoof injury, she cannot perform this season. This is the first time in Prancing with the Stars history that a reindeer has had to withdraw due to injury, before the competition even started. NPC is scrambling to find a replacement.

Dancer, whose career took off in 1997 after she appeared in a Suzy Snowflake Snowbrite Toothbrush commercial, is disappointed. She twisted her ankle in rehearsals and will have to undergo open by-paw surgery. Dancer injured her paw while dancing the Merry Christmas Mambo with her favorite dancing partner, Blitzen. “Dancer is a great sport and worked hard. It’s a shame she can’t prance this season.” said Blitzen.

NPC executives are looking into replacing Dancer with another Hollywood star. There’s talk about Vixen, whose sassy reputation as a North Pole socialite, could land her the role. Dancer chose not to comment on talk of her replacement, but said “I’m just going to drink lots of hot cocoa and get some much needed rest for my day as a real STAR – Christmas Eve! I have to be in the best of health to deliver all the children’s gifts!” When asked for a comment on the Prancing drama, Santa replied “I’m very proud of my tiny Dancer.”

Jack’s Frosty Forecast p.4*Keep your smile pearly white with Snow-Brite!Suzy Snowflake’s
Snow-Brite Toothbrushes

Available now at Sleigh Team HQ!

Breaking News

Results Are In – Christmas Dinner to be Held in Marshmallow Room

The decision was not easy, but all North Pole residents and staff agreed. The annual Christmas Dinner will be held in the Marshmallow Dining room on December 23, 2012! Sighs of relief were heard from all, as Santa gave a speech on Wednesday explaining that the town and its guests will not be disappointed.

Every year the North Pole has a big dinner right before Christmas Eve. It is a celebration of all their hard work preparing for the big day! “We couldn’t decide this year where to hold the celebration. The Reindeer Barn is crowded with the addition of some new reindeer friends and we are using some of the other rooms for toy storage,” said Mrs. Claus. Apparently many new children were added to the “Nice List” this year. “It’s all good,” she added, “Santa is pleased because the Marshmallow Room has the most comfortable chairs, made of marshmallows, of course.” Some other considerations for the event were:

- Candy Cane Lane
- Sugar Plum Suite
- Tea and Crumpet Pump Room

Powered Sugar Hall
Sugar Cookie Blvd.
Little Helper Lounge
The Snow Ballroom
Festivities are scheduled to occur as in previous years: reindeer games, pin the carrot on the snowman, licorice rope tug ‘o war, snow cone eating contest, and then a feast, fit to feed...well...Santa! A ho-ho-holly jolly time is to be had by all!

JINGLE JANGLE JUMBLE

Unscramble the letters to make a holiday word. Then unscramble the letters in the circled spaces to answer the question below. Have a Holly-Jolly good time!

CGA I M SLEVE

OS M TELIET

KNFOEWSL A

OSW B

RS C LOA

ELJ G NI LSELB

GWPIR A NP APREP

HL G ESI DREI

Santa carries all the toys for the good little girls and boys in his...

Sports

Dasher Declared Winner Santa Congratulates Team Members

This year's Reindeer Games proved to be one of the most exciting in North Pole history with Dasher and Comet battling it out

“Ho! Ho! Ho!
This is a Sleigh Team
of winners!”

– Santa Claus

until the very end. These two tough competitors had every elf on the edge of his or her seat. The crowd of Little Helpers in the North Pole Arena cheered wildly for both reindeer as they competed in the following events: Magical Corn Eating Contest, Jingle Bell Ring Toss, Wrap It Up Gift Wrap Contest, Pin the Nose on the Reindeer, and the grand finale, the Leaps and Dash Away All Contest.

Dasher and Comet were neck and neck all the way until the finale where Dasher pulled out in front “dashing away all” Comet’s hopes for a victory. Santa was overheard congratulating both of his hard working Sleigh Team members.

All the Sleigh Team members were in attendance to cheer on the fierce competitors, well all except Rudolph, who chose not to join in any Reindeer Games.

More Little Helpers Set To Visit

The North Pole is a buzz with news that Santa is sending more of his Little Helpers to visit the children this December!

When asked why he had decided to recruit more Little Helpers for visits, Santa said with a very hearty “Ho Ho Ho” that toy production was at an all time high. “I’m so proud of my Little Helpers they’ve worked so hard!” However, Mrs. Claus is more than a little worried that the amount of mischief may be at an

“I just know
those Little Helpers can’t
help it,
they love to get into mischief.”

– Mrs. Claus

all time high too. “I just know those Little Helpers can’t help it, they love to get into mischief.”

Last year at the annual Christmas dinner there was talk of some Little Helpers borrowing the family car to go for doughnuts, riding zip lines, and even shaving one family’s dog! Mrs. Claus was overheard to say. “Oh dear! I hope they don’t end up on Santa’s Naughty List!” At last report Santa was seen making his list and checking it twice!

The Polar News

In the Kitchen

With Mrs. Claus

Deck the halls with...guacamole! Since Santa and his Little Helpers are always snacking on cookies, candy, and cocoa, I decided to treat them to a healthy surprise! I went to work in my kitchen and whipped up a delicious homemade guacamole. Santa and his Little Helpers fa-la-la-loved it so much, they were singing my praises! This yummy Yuletide treat is filled with bits of red and green and is as pretty as a Christmas tree! Serve some of this delicious guacamole with your favorite tortilla chips at your next Christmas gathering and you're sure to have a house full of holly jolly little elves!

Ingredients:

- 3 medium avocados
- 3 plum tomatoes seeded and diced
- 1/2 small red onion diced
- 2 small jalpeno peppers seeded and diced
- 1/2 c fresh cilantro chopped
- 1 tbs. lime juice
- Kosher salt to taste

In a mixing bowl smash avocados with a fork until slightly chunky. Add lime juice and mix until just creamy. Add diced tomatoes, red onion, jalpeno pepper, and chopped cilantro. Mix well. Add salt to taste. Chill for one hour in an airtight container. Serve with your favorite tortilla chips. Enjoy!

Dear Dolly

Dear Dolly,

I am visiting Brian for the very first time this year. Santa said he's about to be put on the Naughty List! How can I have fun with Brian and keep us both off the Naughty List? Help!

From,
Stockings Full of Coal

Dear Coal,

Congratulations on your first visit! Santa picks his best and brightest elves for tough jobs like this. Don't worry you'll have lots of fun, but remember how you got this job in the first place, by being good. You will have to teach little Brian how to have good old fashion holiday fun without making mischief! I know that while Brian is sleeping you're going to want to get into the pantry and make marshmallow snowmen, or TP his bedroom, or maybe even take the family car for a drive, but DON'T! Try something a little less mischievous like playing with his favorite toys, setting out his special breakfast bowl, or

"Santa picks his best and brightest elves for tough jobs like this."

maybe just relax and watch a Christmas movie. You can even write him an Elf Note and suggest you watch the movie together. Ask Mrs. Claus for some of her special Kringle Corn - it pops up white with little bits of green and red. Not only is this popcorn a blast, but it's yummy too! I'm sure Brian will love the popcorn and snuggling with you, but even more, he'll love that you kept him off the Naughty List and the coal out of his stocking!

Love,
Dolly

Jack's Frosty Forecast

Thursday	Snow
Friday	Snow
Saturday	Snow
Sunday	Snow
Monday	Snow