Shipping

Because our product is perishable, we use the most economical UPS option to guarantee arrival within three days. We also have the ability to ship third party using your UPS or FedEx account. In that case, we charge a handling fee of $1.50 per box.

To eliminate errors and streamline your costs, we ask that you import shipping information for your gift recipients into our Excel Spreadsheet. The link is available on our website under Corporate Gifts.

Thank you for making sure the addresses for your gift recipients are accurate. Simply Divine Brownies understands that errors occur and people move! Because our product is perishable, we cannot reship the brownies. In the event a package is returned to us due to an error in the address you supplied, we will contact you right away. We will offer you a discount on the reshipped gift.

Upon Shipping, we will provide you with shipping confirmation, a list of tracking numbers and a copy of the paid invoice.

Our brownies are baked with delicious ingredients that melt, so we do require refrigerated shipping in the summer months. The refrigerated shipping charge is based on shipping weight.
